

Meet Pig

Pig has recently moved to William Creek where he helps his family run the hotel. When he has finished his chores he wanders down to Wrightsair and helps Richard the pilot.

Pig loves flying but is not allowed to take the plane up by himself yet

Basically, he runs the whole town and greets travellers as they arrive. Pig, is learning to fly, he looks at home in the cockpit, he just needs to get his flying hours up.

Pig is claimed to be a Tibetan Spaniel?! The story is Buddhist monks trained these dogs to lay on their bare feet to keep them warm. I don't believe any of this because dogs are too smart to be a hot water bottle for anybody. All dogs are to be pampered by people. Its the first rule in Designer Dog Law. (I let Quinnie know there is a very cute pilot in William Creek, Oh! Boy! I feel like

Here is Pig checking out floodwater recently